

FAMILY VIOLENCE LAW CENTER

Founded in 1978, Family Violence Law Center helps diverse communities in Alameda County heal from domestic violence and sexual assault, advocating for justice and healthy relationships. We provide survivor-centered legal and crisis intervention services, offer prevention education for youth and other community members, and engage in policy work to create systemic change.

ANNUAL REPORT 2018-19

5,345

CRISIS LINE CALLS

answered by FVLC's 24-hour
crisis intervention staff

SURVIVORS

2,196

received crisis support and case management
services, and 1,023
received legal services

87

YOUTH

were educated about teen dating violence prevention

FVLC RESPONDS TO THE HOUSING CRISIS

legal assistance and case
management for survivors
with housing issues.

policy advocacy to meet the
housing needs of survivors,
particularly women* of color

*We intend "women" to include cis-, trans, non-binary, and gender non-confirming, female identified people.

Thank you to all of our generous donors!

*We couldn't serve our communities
without your support.*

Introducing FVLC's Policy 2019-20 Agenda

Improve access to civil justice for sexual assault survivors

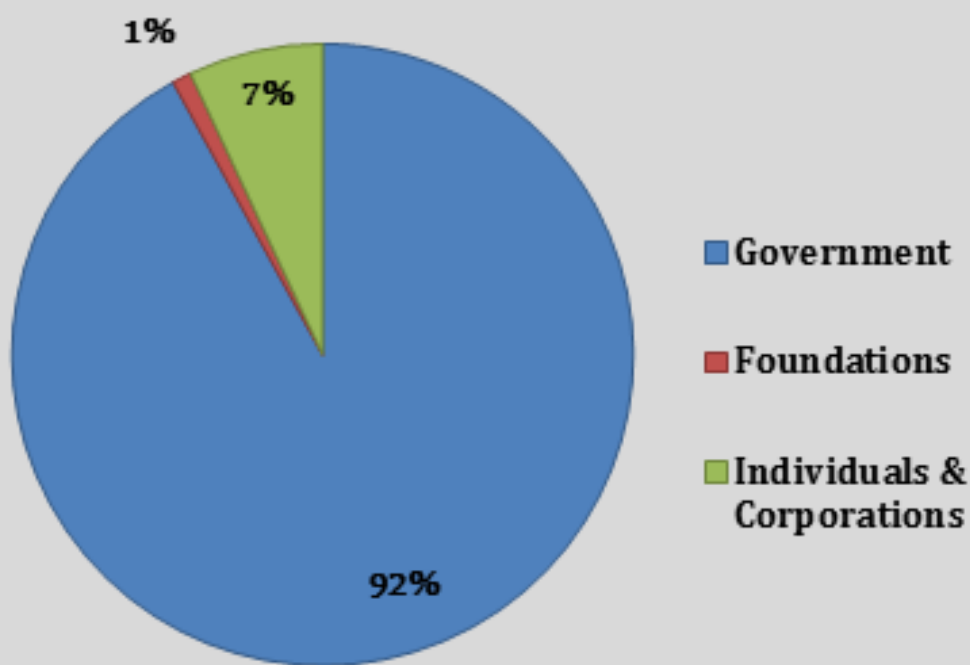

Institutionalize legal protections for survivors in the areas of housing and employment

Advocate for resources to assist unhoused survivors

ACCOUNTABILITY

Funding Sources

Expenditures

For more information, visit <http://fvlc.org/>